The President's Noise Initiative...

On August 2 of this year, President Carter submitted the following statement to the Congress in response to the establishment of the National Environmental Planning and Federal Activities Program by the Federal Office of Environmental Activities. This statement underscores the importance of environmental planning in the United States and highlights the need for a comprehensive approach to address the funding and coordination of environmental activities.

This initiative is designed to improve federal assistance to states and localities for incorporation of noise considerations in land development planning and site review operations. It will involve the consolidation of federal guidelines and the implementation of three basic strategies: the establishment of noise control priorities; the housing program of HUD, VA, and FHA; and the county commission's role in land development planning. The President's Noise Initiative also includes the Federal Aid in Housing Act of 1974, which mandates the development of comprehensive land use plans for urban areas.

The initiative also emphasizes the importance of environmental planning in the development of transportation projects. The Federal Aid in Housing Act of 1974 requires that transportation projects be developed in cooperation with local governments, and the initiative calls for a comprehensive approach to planning and development in urban areas.

The initiative is supported by the National Environmental Planning and Federal Activities Program, which aims to provide a comprehensive approach to environmental planning and development. The initiative also includes the Federal Aid in Housing Act of 1974, which mandates the development of comprehensive land use plans for urban areas.
