DIVISION 2. - NOISE POLLUTION

Sec. 8-91. - Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases, when used in this division, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

Decibel is a unit of measurement of intensity of sound (the sound pressure level).

Octave band is a means of dividing the range of sound frequencies into octaves, in order to classify sound according to pitch.

Octave band filter means an instrument, standardized by the American Standard Association, used in conjunction with a sound level meter to take measurements in specific octave bands.

Sound level meter means an instrument, standardized by the American Standard Association, used for measurement of the intensity of sound and calibrated in decibels.
Sec. 8-92. - Measurement of sound level.

(a) For the purpose of measuring the intensity and frequencies of sound, sound level meters and octave band filters shall be employed. In the enforcement of this division, noise produced by the operation of motor-driven vehicles, stationary units, flying objects or other transportation facilities shall be included in the determination of the maximum decibel levels permitted.

(b) Sounds of short duration, as from forge hammers, punch presses and metal shears, which cannot be measured accurately with the sound level meter, shall be measured with an impact noise filter as manufactured by the General Radio Company, or its equivalent, in order to determine the peak value of the impact. For sounds so measured, the sound pressure level set forth in Table I may be increased by six decibels.

Sec. 8-93. - Maximum permitted sound levels.

It shall be unlawful for any person to create sound in excess of the sound pressure levels delineated in Table I.
